

Adriatic Bellflower 'Dicksons Gold'

Campanula garganica 'Dicksons Gold'

Rating: 0.0 (0 votes)

This description is for species Adriatic Bellflower (Campanula garganica):

The Adriatic Bellflower is a delightful plant that becomes covered in star shaped, violet blue flowers during the summer months. It's easy to grow and requires little maintenance, making it a wonderful choice for the novice or time short gardener. Often used in flower arrangements, it also looks fabulous in flowerbeds or for underplanting. Campanula garganica is a great plant to grow in the UK, as it's a tough little number, well suited to frosts and driving winds and rain. Plant in full sun or partial shade for the best results.
