Barrenwort (Epimedium x warleyense):

You could make a film about your life with this lovely plant and call it Warley and Me.

Epimedium x warleyense, or Bishop's Hat is a wonderful choice if you're looking for a vibrant display of colour during the height of summer. It sports heart shaped green leaves that become flushed red and brown during the spring and autumn. Summertime sees it erupt in a superb array of bright orange-yellow blooms that wave in the breeze atop wiry stems. It is a little tricky to successfully grow, so for the best results plant in a sheltered position in partial shade.
